MILLS WINS A RAGGED GAME FROM PUNAHOU

Interscholastic League Leaders Shy Two Regulars—
Kam Defeats St. Louis

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE.

A poorly umpired and poorly played game Saturday afternoon on Alexander Field saw the champion Punahou Academy squad go down to defeat at the hands of the fast Mills team to the tune of 8-7. In the eighth inning it looked as if the Punahou men would win, for the score stood 7-6 in their favor, but in the last frame the Mahoe nine slipped two over on the wearers of the buff and blue, and emerged from the fray on the long end of the score.

Although Gay handled the horsehide for nine innings in veteran style, and sent a total of 14 men to the bench by the S. O. route, the fielding of the home aggregation was very punk. The Mills men won on passed balls and had bobbles at critical points and only one of their tallies was an earned run, while the Puns scored two earned runs.

With the two Wadsworth brothers holding down the backstop position instead of Harry Baldwin, the regular man, the Puns lost a number of runs on passed balls. Considering the fact that he has not caught for two or more years, David Wadsworth did well, as did his small brother in the innings in which he caught. As was also the case with Inman, Harry Baldwin, the Punahou captain and regular catcher, had fumbled in his studies and was kept out of the game by the faculty.

For the Mills team Iwasaki pitched his usual steady game and was given strong support. Although he was taxed for two more hits than Gay, a total of 10, only four errors were chalked against his team, while six were marked against the academics. The Mills infield and outfield was right there and got everything that came their way.

Kama Win From Saints.
A close and exciting game on the Kamehameha field between the cadets and the St. Louis nine resulted in a score of 3-2 with the Saints on the short end. Jansen pitched great ball for the losers while Koani was given a support that could not be beaten. Through this victory the Katus win the second place in the list.

How It Feels to Be Shot At

A scientific study of the sensations of soldiers under fire has recently been made by an Italian colonel, whose interest in the psychology of battles led him to question closely more than 2000 men one by one. The results of his investigations are given in the Italian Military Review.

Nine-tenths of the men declared their fear was greatest at the first sound of the enemy's bullets in the first battle, though they were much less frightened than they had expected to be, and that in each succeeding battle their fear diminished.

They agreed that nothing was so terrible, so harrowing to the nerves, as to stand motionless in the front rank, exposed to the fire which they were not permitted to return. So exasperating was the agony that they always welcomed orders to advance, even into greater peril. That relieved the tension.—Boston Globe.

ALL-CHINESE SUCCESSFUL ACCORDING TO MARKHAM

The traveling All-Chinese are going strong, and preaching the gospel of Hawaii on every occasion, according to Denny Markham, who sent the following sensational ball. Kekoa is under date line of Kokomo, Ind., May 11:

"Just a few lines letting you know that things are going fine with the boys. Played 48, won 34, lost 13, tied 1. Albert Akana is distributing the Promotion Committee literature as fast as we get it, and we can't get enough of it. The people always ask us when we can get more of the literature.

"I am catching, while Apau and Foster Robinson are pitching sensational ball. Kekoa is also pitching good ball.

"Every knock at home is a boost abroad. We are receiving the glad hand in every city, and the welcome is stronger as we get further east. Aloha from all the boys.

Defective Patent System

While trying to regulate big business everywhere else, the authorities at Washington notoriously fail to regulate big business at home. One of the largest businesses of the government is embraced in the operations of the Patent Office. Yet, in every notable patent litigation, the glaring shortcomings of the Patent Department are disclosed. Inventors, patent attorneys, and students of public questions have repeatedly pointed out the maze of difficulties surrounding the patent office system—the tedious delays, the conflicting opinions and the interference with the rights of the manufacturer as well as the inventor. Congress has been petitioned again and again to correct these faults, but they continue. The most helpful feature has been found in the regulating decisions of the courts, but the great need of the time is reformatory legislation by Congress.

If the industrial progress of the country is to be continued the methods of the Patent Office and the patent laws themselves must be radically reformed. What possible encouragement to a manufacturing investment is there under conditions such as now exist? Both from the standpoint of the inventor and the manufacturer, the decisions of the Patent Department should be prompt, final and conclusive.—Leslie's.

Judge Rosalesky visited full penalty of the law upon two first offenders charged with carrying concealed weapons in New York. They were each sentenced to four and one-half years in prison and fined $1000, the fines to be served out at the rate of $1 per day.

Herman Groninger, a farmer living near Atchison, Kan., has bought two motor cars, one to be used for his family and the other for hauling hogs to market. He says his hogs paid for the machines, so they should be allowed to ride in one.

Walter Johnson, The Great, As He Looks Sizing Up The Batters

... JOHNSON ...

Before the present baseball season opened alarming reports came from Washington that Walter Johnson had a sore arm. Judging from the way in which the big Swede has been mowing down opposing batsmen, the soreness must have been in his left arm. In his career in the major leagues Johnson has struck out over 1400 batters and leads the field of pitchers in this respect.

PORTUGUESE ARE TOO STRONG FOR KEIO BALL MEN

P. A. C. 4, Keio 1.
Bleachers and stands at Mollili were black with baseball fans Saturday afternoon, when the visiting Keio University team went down to defeat before the Portuguese Athletic Club. It was a well-played game, and there was enough brilliancy at bat and in the field to keep the spectators on their toes during the entire time. It was a game of sudden form reversals, too, and public favor switched from player to player with great suddenness.

The Keios were first to get in the run column, scoring in the second frame, on two clean singles, with fielder's choice that advanced the first man from first to second. This was the last run for the Japanese collegians, although they had men on bases several times, and touched Tony Medeiros for 10 hits in all. The Portuguese support was first class, however, after Bushnell replaced Carroll at short, sending the Maui player in to the field. This proved a happy change, for Carroll began to star as soon as he got away from the infield, pulling off two splendid catches, and getting two hits that had much to do with the scoring. In the fourth inning with the Portuguese put their first run across, followed by two in the sixth, and one in the eighth.

Sugase pitched for the Japanese and held the opposition to six hits.

The Keios will be seen in action next against the Coast Defense team Wednesday afternoon. They scored an easy victory over the concrete soldiers in the initial game last Wednesday, and the latter are looking for a chance to even up the score.

COAST DEFENSE TOO STRONG FOR THE 4TH CAVALRY BALL PLAYERS

Coast Defense 6, 4th Cavalry 1.
SCHOOFIELD BARRACKS, May 25.—The Cavalry played a slow and listless game on Saturday against the Coast Defense, and deserved a much sounder thrashing than they received. Lawson and his team were in fine form and played snappy ball from start to finish.

Trouble started for the troopers in the first inning when two singles, an error and a passed ball brought in three runs for the visitors. O'Hara scored the fourth run in the third. He drew a pass, stole second and then third on Hickey's long and protracted wind-up, and finally came home on Hundley's long fly to center. Two more runs were scored by the Coast Defense before the end of the game, but the Cavalry could only bring in one, an earned run in the 7th as the result of two singles.

GREAT GAME WON BY THE 25TH IN THE 10TH FRAME

25th Infantry 5, 1st Field Artillery 2.
It took ten innings for the 25th to defeat the plucky wagon soldiers yesterday afternoon before the record crowd of the season at Schofield. Lieut. Beard had picked the right man to pitch against the Schofield champions. Burnett, with his wide curves and slow drops, was a puzzle to their best batters until the latter part of the game when the pace began to tell, and he allowed two singles in the eighth and two more in the tenth. Cullens shook his head: it was too much for him. He could pound out a speedy ball from a giant pitcher, but these wide slow curves from a mere slip of a boy were something new.

The 25th started the scoring in the third. Cullens walked. Williamson bunted to Burnett, who threw to second to retire Cullens. It was a pretty play but Burnett had his foot on the bag. Slaughter fled to right field and Cullens and Williamson both advanced a base. Collins fled to Miller, who slammed the ball to Baurtut to catch Williamson before he could get back to second. The play was close but the umpire decided in favor of Williamson and while Baurtut was protesting Cullens stole home. In the same inning the Artillery started some aggressive work at the bat and tied the score. Cunningham singled and stole second. Burnett fanned. Donahue singled, scoring Cunningham and went to second when the ball was thrown to the plate. Miller singled and Donahue tried to score on the hit but was out at the plate by Slaughter's perfect throw.

In the 5th inning Wilkinson was hit by one of Jasper's twisters and stole second. Cunningham came up next and sailed the ball to left field for an easy home run. Lt. Saunders sent Waterhouse to the slab and Jasper to the bench, and though Donahue made a pretty single, the scoring was over for the Artillery.

In the eighth the 25th tied the score. With one man out Slaughter singled and Rhodes was passed. Palmer who had replaced Dunlap hit Burnett, but Donahue made a beautiful stop and retired Rhodes at second. Here is where the wagon soldiers played in hard luck. Donahue's cleats caught in the sack and he was prevented from making an easy double and ending what turned out to be a disastrous inning, for Slaughter made third on this play, and Dunlap stole second before Swinton made the plate. In the tenth frame Williamson and Slaughter both singled, and Miller's error filled the bases. Williamson and Slaughter both scored on sacrifice flies before three men could be retired.

So ended the hardest fought game of the series and the Field Artillery dropped to the bottom of the league. With the same spirit displayed in this game and a little more luck they ought not to stay there long. It looks now as if the Coast Defense and 25th Infantry will have to fight it out for first place.

KAILANI WINS SWIMMING MEET IN GOOD STYLE

Grammar Schools Have Some Speedy Water Men in the Championship Races

The Alakea slip was the scene of a close and exciting swimming meet on Saturday afternoon, when the Kailani team, under the leadership of Clarence Lane, the crack Palama swimmer, won the Grammar School championship for 1914. Every one of the five races pulled off was close and hotly contested, and the youngsters that were present appreciated the competition and cheered their swimmers at the proper time.

There were five schools entered in the meet and the entries of each were divided into four classes. Class A, for boys weighing over 115 pounds; class B, for boys weighing between 100 and 115; class C, for boys weighing between 80 and 100 pounds, and class D, for boys weighing under 80 pounds. Classified into these four divisions, boys of all sizes were given an equal chance to show what they could do.

In each race four places were counted, the first man was given five points, second three, third two and fourth one; the first place in the relay counted ten, second six, and third three. The final point saw Kailani first with 31, Punahou second with 24, St. Louis third with 13, Central Grammar fourth with 6, and Liliokalani last with no points.

A large number of boys were entered in each event, but in spite of this the meet was run off smoothly and in a short time. In the 20 and 40 yard races two trial heats had to be held while in the other swims there was only one race.

Harold Harvey Fast.

The first event on the program was the first trial of the twenty-yard dash for boys in class D. Harold Harvey, the fast little Punahou swimmer
